STIPULATION

IT APPEARING that it is necessary to obtain accurate engineering data respecting the quantities of water required for irrigation of the land of the parties hereto, the acreage of irrigated land, and water flows of Minnie Maud Creek and tributaries, and

IT FURTHER APPEARING that the State Engineer of Utah will, during the 1958 irrigation season, make necessary surveys and conduct studies of water use and requirements on the lands involved in the above entitled cause,

IT IS STIPULATED by and among the parties hereto, by their respective counsel, that (1) an order may be made in this cause directing the State Engineer of Utah to make surveys, make water measurements and water use studies, and do such other engineering work as may be required to prepare a proposed determination of water rights, and a priority schedule on Minnie Maud Creek covering particularly the lands involved in this suit; (2) an order may be made continuing, for the 1958 irrigation season, the distribution of water in accordance with the order heretofore entered by the above entitled court for the 1957 irrigation season; and (3) an order may be entered vacating the setting of the above case for trial on May 26, 1958, and continuing the matter until after receipt of the State Engineer's report.
